FDLC Resources:

E. The Gift of Love: A Bride and Groom's Liturgy Guide; $7.50

□First and foremost, the Church warmly welcomes the engaged couple and rejoice in the love which they share. As we begin to prepare them for Marriage and the wedding liturgy, we find that few are familiar with liturgical terms and rituals. This book will be a helpful resource for the engaged couple and as well as parish staffs -- you□ want to have several dozen on hand at the parish office.

Written in very conversational language, The Gift of Love, provides basic liturgical catechesis on each of the three rites, lists of readings, guides for preparing a worship aid, principles for choosing music, frequently-asked questions and their answers, and helpful tear-out preparation sheets.□

F. Presiding at the Wedding Liturgy: A Guide for Deacons; $10.00

□The Deacon is often called upon to preside at The Order of Celebrating Matrimony without Mass or The Order of Celebrating Matrimony between a Catholic and a Catechumen or a Non-Christian. This book provides excellent guidance on the elements of the rites and wonderful advice on □best practices□for their proper celebration. It's loaded with rich resources that will assist your conversations with the bride and groom, too, including helpful preparation sheets.□

G. This Sacred Bond: A Pastoral Companion to the OCM; $12.00

□In 2016, the dioceses of the United States are welcoming the English translation of The Order of Celebrating Matrimony. It may be used in the liturgy as of September 8, 2016 (The Nativity of the Blessed Virgin Mary) and its use is mandatory in the dioceses of the United States on December 30, 2016 (the Feast of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary, and Joseph).

This book will be a useful guide for clergy, lay leaders, formation staffs, seminary professors, and others who will want to become acquainted with the contents of the OCM, the elements of its three distinct rites, and best pastoral practices. Its appendix also includes helpful preparation sheets and prayers.□
